Scion Missing

Medill McCormick, 21, (above) son of the Harvester family, was sought through the rugged Sandia Mountains near Albuquerque, N. M., after he failed to return from a hiking trip. CCC enrollees were pressed into service in the search.

Silent Campaigner

Here and There

SHY HEIRESS made one of her rare public appearances to see the Louis Schmelting fight in New York's Yankee Stadium. This is Doris Duke Cromwell, one of the world's richest women.

Albuquerque, N. M., June 25 (AP)—The bluff Sandia Mountains, frowning down upon the Rio Grande Valley, had today the fate of John McCormick, feared the victim of a fall from one of their precipitous peaks. Searchers, who resumed their tragic task at dawn, expected only the worst—that they would find the mangled body of the Chicago publishing heir, much as last night they came upon that of his mountain-climbing companion, 20-year-old Richard Whitmer of Albuquerque. Personally commanding the three-day search, Governor Clyde Tingley expressed the thoughts of the army of men he led into the Sandias today: "That boy—his body—is in there somewhere, and we'll find him—we'll find him." Racked by anxiety, Mrs. Hanna McCormick Simms waited last night in Juan Tabo CCC camp, at the base of the mountains, hoping to learn that her 20-year-old son still lived. She heard only that young Whitmer's body, skull crushed, almost denuded, had been found at the base of "The Shield," sheer rock face of North Sandia Peak. Of John McCormick, there was no word. The mountain climber's urge for new conquests led to the tragic venture, friends revealed today.

Roosevelt Plans To Take an Active Part in Primaries

Says "Copperheads" Waged Defeatist Campaign Last Year in Effort to Stop Governmental Reform

Washington, June 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt, declaring a right to intervene in Democratic primaries, gave virtual notice today that he was prepared to fight personally for election of a Congress favorable to his policies.

In his 19th "fireside chat" by radio to the nation last night, the President made it plain that he would not hesitate to speak out when he thought a contest between a "liberal" and a "conservative" warranted.

"As President of the United States, I am not asking the voters of the country to vote for Democrats next November as opposed to Republicans or members of any other party," he said. "Nor am I, as President, taking part in Democratic primaries.

"As the head of the Democratic party, however, charged with the responsibility of carrying out the definitely liberal declaration of principles set forth in the 1936 Democratic platform, I feel that I have every right to speak in those few instances where there may be a clear issue between candidates for a Democratic nomination involving these principles, or involving a clear misuse of my own name."

The President spoke into a half dozen microphones from behind a small desk in the oval, diplomatic reception room of the White House. He wore a white suit, with black and white tie, but because windows were closed to shut out noises, he had occasion frequently to wipe perspiration from his forehead.

Besides touching on politics, he reviewed legislation enacted by the last Congress and asked for the cooperation of capital and labor in maintaining wages and in replacing federal "pump priming" outlays with private spending.

"Barring unforeseen events," he told his listeners, there would be no special session of Congress. He mentioned also the defeat last year of his proposal to reorganize the courts and asserted the net result had been "an important victory for the people of the United States—a lost battle which won a war."

Asserting that in one way or another the "real objectives" of his court message to Congress had been attained, he added: "The attitude of the supreme court towards constitutional questions is entirely changed. Its recent decisions are eloquent testimony of a willingness to collaborate with the two other branches of government to make democracy work."

Hits "Copperheads" His address was sprinkled with pungent thrusts at his opponents. At one point, he asserted that "copperheads" had waged a "concerted campaign of defeatism" last year in an effort to stop governmental reform.

"And you will remember," he continued, "that it was the copperheads who—in the days of the Civil War, the war between the states—tried their best to make President Lincoln give up the fight and let the nation remain split in two and return to peace—yes, peace at any price."

Weary Men Find Whitmer Body and Seek McCormick

Where Nazi Victims Take Refuge

Aberdeen Camp, above, has been the scene of hurried activity this week as the camp staff made plans to welcome nearly 30 German and Austrian refugees. The large old Colonial mansion which overlooks the Hudson river at West Park, is being operated by the American Friends Service committee, an organization formed by the Quakers during the World War to aid persons who have been disturbed by some major calamity.

Education Board Held Busy Meeting On Friday Night

Matters running from the installation of lightning rods on the new Myron J. Michael school all along the line to adoption of the 1939 budget held the attention of the Board of Education at regular session Friday evening.

Fred J. Roosa made application for job as inspector on the new Vocational School soon to be commenced. The application was filed.

To Use School Yard Application was made for use of the No. 2 school grounds for supervised play this summer and the board granted the request subject to revocation at any time if the use should become a nuisance.

Printing bids were opened and the contract was awarded to the Leader Company for $182.25. The Freeman Publishing Company bid was $197.

Bids for repairs to the high school roof was opened. Henry A. Olsen bid $365 and guaranteed the work two years. Tinning and other similar work to be on a material and labor basis. Smith-Parish Roofing Company submitted two bids, one for $320 and one for $184. The higher proposal included a complete mopping of the roof with hot asphalt and carried a one year guarantee. The matter was referred to the Building Committee with power.

Fire Tower Bid Bids were also received for erection of a fire tower at No. 2 school. Thomas Kennedy & Son bid $365 for masonry work. The same firm bid $203 for a walk from the front entrance at the south to the high school and $115 for a walk to the circle from the south gate. A bid of $322 was submitted for a walk on Prospect street side of No. 8 school.

Charles Hoffman & Son bid $543 for masonry work at No. 2 school fire tower. For the new walk at the high school from the south gate to the circle $160 and for the longer walk $319. For the walk at No. 8 his bid was $473.

The bids were filed. Time will be required by the board to determine whether this work can be done at this time.

The pay roll amounting to $37,287.51 and bills in the sum of $40,861.35 were ordered paid.

Reports Progress.

Trustee Feeney, for the building committee, reported the work on new school progressing. The roof will be completed next week and plastering will commence in about a week. Plumbing and electrical work is progressing along with the general work.

The board authorized the expenditure of $35 for an extra valve in the heating system in the teachers' dining room.

Because of the fact that certain conduit should not be laid before the floor is placed, the board voted to have the work done by the contractor on a time and labor basis. This conduit was not included in the original plan but because of changes in location of equipment and to provide for future installation it was deemed wise to install the conduit now before the floor is laid. The entire job will not exceed $200.

To Sign Contract. Mr. Feeney reported that it was expected the contract for this (Continued on Page Five)

City Must Raise $207,703.78 as Share of Operating Costs for Schools Next Year—Building Program Responsible for Boost in Taxation

Schmid Explains Education Budget For Local Schools

Adoption of the annual school budget Friday evening by the Board of Education in the amount of $661,558.89, discloses the interesting item of fact that out of every $3 raised by taxation in the city $1 goes for education.

According to a statement made today by Alfred Schmid, president of the Board of Education, the total cost for the year 1938 of operating the various departments of the general city government including bonds and interest, welfare and relief work and the city's share of the state and county taxes is $1,228,328.90 to which is added the cost of education in the amount of $661,558.89. Thus it will be seen that the city cost of education is in the ratio of about $1 out of every $3 expended.

Included in the school budget adopted last evening is the item of $133,153.69 for "capital improvements." This item is the amount to be expended during the coming year for school improvements and construction but it does not mean that this amount must be raised in its entirety by taxation.

Under the State Education Law no board of education is permitted to have a budget (Continued on Page Seven)

Resolutions Give Praise for Service Of Two Teachers

Resolutions commending the efficient service which two of Kingston's teachers have rendered the city were adopted by the board of education Friday evening at regular session. The resolutions, offered by Trustee Walter for the teachers' committee, commended the work of Miss Margaret Mulligan and Miss Marguerite Cordes, who have retired from the teaching staff.

The resolutions were spread on the minutes and copies will be forwarded to the teachers. The resolutions unanimously adopted read:

The teachers' committee reports to the board of education the retirement of two teachers of many years of efficient, successful service in our schools—Miss Margaret Mulligan as supervisor of penmanship and Miss Marguerite Cordes of the modern languages department in the high school.

Under the supervision of Miss Mulligan, the work in penmanship in our schools was excellent by far, if any, of the cities of the state. Pupils and teachers were inspired to work cooperatively for the best results possible.

Miss Cordes has by earnest, unselfish, sympathetic work rendered an outstanding service to this city in her department and in her many extra curricular activities. Both teachers are retiring with the best wishes of this board for long continued health and happiness.

Ruzzo, Nine Others Pay Fines Friday In County Court By Hit-Run Driver

Victor Ruzzo, of Van Deusen street, this city, was brought before County Judge Frederick U. Traver Friday afternoon and was fined $500 and sentenced to nine months in jail on his plea of guilty to the charge of keeping a gambling place and betting establishment in violation of Section 973.

Joseph Forman, Ruzzo's attorney, informed the court the defendant wished to change his former plea of not guilty to one of guilty. Ruzzo waived the usual two days for sentence, was fined, sentenced and the latter was suspended during good behavior.

Ruzzo is warned by the court that in suspending jail sentence it was being done on condition that Ruzzo's place on Broadway would be kept open at all times for inspection by the police department and that all devices pertaining to gambling would be removed from the premises within one month.

Nine other alleged gamblers changed their pleas to guilty, were fined and given jail sentences by Judge Traver. The fines ranged from $50 to the $500 paid by Ruzzo and totaled $1,000.

All ten who changed their pleas yesterday were among the 20-odd defendants who originally entered not guilty pleas when they were arraigned before Judge Traver earlier this month. The ten men were sentenced collectively by Judge Traver after all had entered their changed pleas.

Sentences Suspended Jail sentences were suspended on condition that defendants should not re-engage in gambling practices.

In lieu of payment of the fines the court directed that the defendants remain in jail for each $2 of the fine not paid. All stepped up to the mark and settled with the court or had the money taken from cash bail previously posted.

Included in the cases disposed of were several charging selling of policy slips, some charging pool selling and book-making and one of keeping and maintaining a place for gaming and betting.

Among Those Pleading Emanuel Calao, East Strand barber, pleaded guilty to a violation of Section 974, possession of policy slips. He was fined $50 and given a three months suspended sentence in jail. Joseph Forman appeared for the defendant.

Joseph Duncan, of East St. James street, Joseph Werner, of 17 Broadway, Joseph Carlucci, of 149 Prospect street, Bert W. Orme, of Rosendale Heights, were arraigned on charges of keeping and betting. (Continued on Page Seven)

CCC Boy Is Killed In Week's Second 'Olympian' Crash

Miles City, Mont., June 25 (AP)—H. J. McMahon, chief clerk of the Miles City division of the Milwaukee Railroad, announced the road's "Olympian" crashed head-on with a special train carrying CCC boys near Ingomar, Mont., early today.

He said one boy was killed and another injured.

Little information was available, he said, because of the isolated section in which the accident occurred. He said he believed no others were killed or injured.

Ingomar is about 75 miles west of Miles City. Railroad officials said they had only a brief message from the crew of the "Olympian," crack passenger train from Chicago to Tacoma, Wash.

Another section of the "Olympian" crashed through a weakened bridge over Hooded Custer Creek near Miles City last Sunday, killing an estimated 47.

Park To Get Deer The city zoo at Forsyth Park will receive a new addition to the family Monday morning when a young fawn deer will be presented.

Frederick G. DeWitt, district game protector, called up the mayor's office this morning and offered the deer to the park.

'Floater' Is Killed On 9-W Last Night By Hit-Run Driver

State police this morning broadcast an alarm for the driver of a car which struck and killed a man on 9-W, opposite Sunset Inn, about half a mile south of Saugerties, last night.

The man, a "floater" who had at times worked at different places in the Catskills, was known only as "John." He is said to have been about 56 years of age.

He was attempting to cross 9-W at the time of the accident and apparently was intoxicated. Narrowly escaping being hit by a southbound car as he walked directly across in the midst of the speeding traffic, he continued and was hit and instantly killed by a car being driven north. The force of the blow hurled him 15 or 20 feet into the driveway leading to Sunset Inn.

No Description of Car Trooper Roger Merritt and Deputy Sheriff McCullough and Young, who investigated the accident, could get no description of the car which caused John's death and which continued on its way without stopping, although there were several witnesses of the affair. It was estimated that the car was traveling at the rate of 50 or 60 miles an hour.

Dr. L. A. Sankling of Saugerties, who was called, found the man dead upon his arrival. Coroner Norvin R. Lasher took charge of the body and ordered an autopsy.

John T. Gilmester, who runs the Old Oaken Bucket roadhouse and gas station, not far from Sunset Inn, said that John, who had worked for him before, asked for work Sunday and was given a job washing dishes. Friday night, John asked Gilmester for some money, saying that he was going to leave today. He was asked to wait until this morning, but was finally given a dollar and left the house.

Asks More Money Later, it is stated, John returned and demanded more money and when it was refused tried to sell a safety razor to one of the employees at the place. Unable to make the sale he left and was apparently on his way to Sunset Inn when he was struck and killed.

The investigating officers in going through the dead man's effects found a key to Gilmester's beer cellar in the pocket of an old pair of trousers which John had kept in the barn at the Old Oaken Bucket, where he slept. Gilmester said that the key had been missing since John arrived at the place.

Three Cities in Valley Share PWA Allotments The Public Works Administration included Poughkeepsie, Beacon and Peekskill in its recent allotments for New York State communities which amounted to $8,000,000.

The Poughkeepsie award for schools was $258,943, according to the Associated Press; that for Peekskill, $22,909; and $67,909 for Beacon sewer work.

Efforts Made to Obtain Fingerprints From Automobile and the Clothing Worn by Young Carle

Miss Marjorie Smith Says She Has No Recollection as to Whom He Might Be

Although three law enforcement agencies, approximating a force of 100 men in this area, are constantly on the alert for the abductor of Jason E. Carle, Jr., of 157 Henry street, and Miss Marjorie Smith, of 260 Smith avenue, both of this city, no arrest has been made.

The man, who kidnapped the pair, robbed Carle and criminally assaulted Miss Smith, it is hoped will be tracked down through the rope used to bind Carle to a tree at Lake Katrine, the local police, Sheriff Abram Molyneux and State Troopers say.

Several Are Questioned. Several suspects were picked up by the authorities on Friday and taken to police headquarters where they were seen by Carle and the young woman, who failed to identify any of them.

One clue that was followed Friday and is still under way centers on a search to ascertain where the rope used by the kidnaper in tying up his victims was purchased.

Another step taken by Chief of Police J. Allan Wood and his men was an effort to obtain fingerprints of the abductor from the Hudson automobile, and also from the clothing worn by young Carle. Whether any fingerprints of value were obtained is not known.

Public Cooperating. Chief Wood when seen this morning stated that he was gratified that the public is cooperating in an effort to apprehend the abductor, and that several leads had been furnished by citizens which were being closely followed up.

General opinion seems to be that the abductor is a local man. Friday morning Carle went with state troopers, Sheriff Molyneux and Chief of Police Wood to the spot in the woods where he was tied to the tree while the kidnaper brutally assaulted the young woman, tearing her clothing from her body.

Carle's wrists are still red while the girl bears marks about her throat. At the point on the old road in the woods at Lake Katrine where the kidnaper forced his victims to get out of the car is a high wire fence which he made them climb over. Beyond the fence the grass was fully three feet in height. Pieces of the rope used by the kidnaper were found on the spot, but no trace was found of Carle's wallet which was taken by the abductor.

Faces Four Charges. The assailant faces four charges when apprehended, that of kidnapping, theft of the car, rape and robbery. Chief Wood said today that no effort was being spared in trying to locate the kidnaper, and the search would continue until he is apprehended.

The crime for which the abductor is sought is one of the most heinous in the annals of Ulster county. Although the abductor informed the young woman that he had had his eye on her for some time, and that he had gone to school with her she has no recollection as to whom he might be.

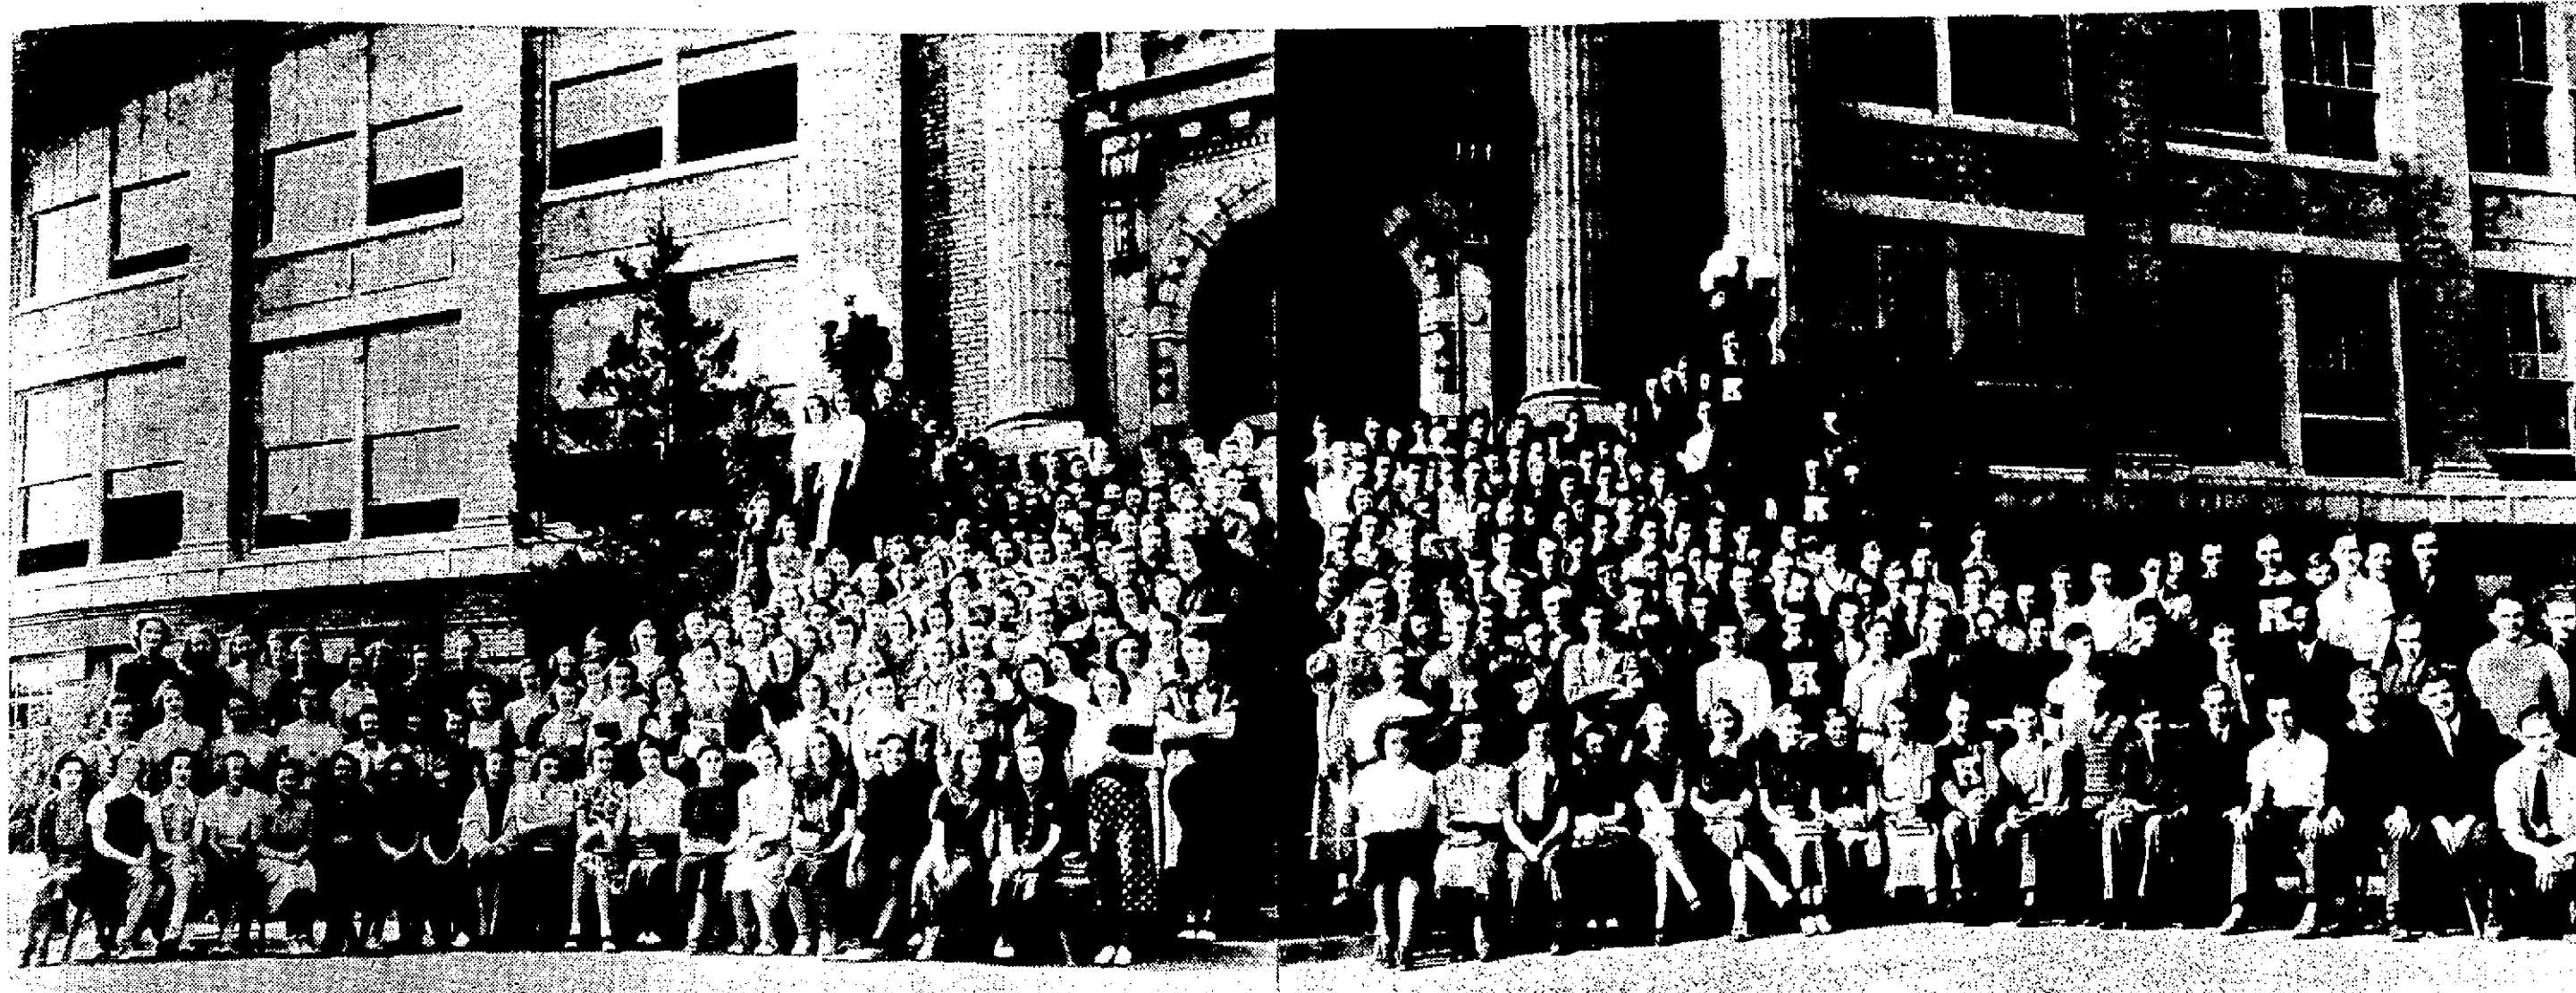

According to the young couple the spot in the woods where they were taken as much as possible. In driving to the scene of the crime he directed them to keep their eyes straight ahead when he saw them trying to get a view of his face.

The abductor is described as being a man about 25 or 27 years of age. He is about 5 feet 10 inches tall, and wore white slacks with brown stripes and a light brown coat and a felt hat.

The young couple is positive that if either hears his voice again there will be no difficulty in identification. While Carle and the young woman at the direction of the abductor were driving out Albany avenue on the way to Lake Katrine they passed the residence of State Trooper Riley on the Saugerties road. The trooper's car was parked in front of the house, but the young couple say that the abductor still had his gun pressed into the ribs of young Carle and they were afraid to call for help as they passed.

Miss Atkins to Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Harold V. Story announce the engagement of their niece, Miss Charlotte Atkins, to Theodore Gordon Peck, III, Miss Atkins, who until recently has lived in Kingston, is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel W. Atkins. Miss Atkins attended Kingston High School, Central School, and was graduated from Russell Sage College. She is a member of the College Women's Club.

Mr. Peck is the son of Mrs. Laura H. Youngs of Palm Beach and New York, and of the late Theodore G. Peck, Jr. He was graduated from Manlius Military Academy, and attended the Army War College. Mr. Peck is a member of Chi Mu Epsilon. Before accepting his present position as executive head of the Sahler Sanatorium he was affiliated with a New York investment firm.

Announcement of the engagement was made this afternoon at a dinner-bridge at The Shop in the Garden, Stone Ridge. Those present were: Misses Marion Healy, Florence Balts and Ruth Tongue, Mrs. Edward Hughes, Mrs. Sherwood Lasher, Mrs. Charles Vogel and Mrs. Louis Seketee, all of Kingston; Mrs. Kenneth Anderson of Foughkeepers; Mrs. Theodore Baker of Marlborough; Mrs. Edward Kappes and Miss Ora C. Kappes of Brooklyn; Miss Adele Hawkes and Miss N. V. Kelly of New York; Mrs. Robert Kristeller of Carmel; Miss Clara Cuddeback, Audrey Toranus and Helen Fitzgerald of Goshen, and Mrs. Harold V. Story of Ulster Park.

The wedding will take place in the fall.

Schuman-Walsh

Miss Catharine V. Walsh of 622 Broadway and Harold J. Schuman of 51 Summer street were united in marriage in Saugerties on June 23, by the Rev. John Neander. They were attended by Minnie Marie Haber and August Olson.

Republican Club Card Party

The Kingston Women's Republican Club will hold a card party on the terrace at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Wednesday, July 20.

Talk Given on Bibby Garden

The proposed garden of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Lambert Bibby at 97 Wall street was the subject of a talk given to the Garden Club of Milford, Pa., by James C. Rose who has just completed the graduate course in Landscape Architecture at Harvard University, and who has been employed by Dr. Bibby to design the gardens of his new estate.

The proposed garden is done in contemporary style, and represents an ingenious and skillful integration of the ancient house and thoroughly contemporary garden which, when it is built will be the first modern garden in America professionally designed. The garden will receive national recognition next month when photographs of the model will be published along with an article by Mr. Rose in "Pencil Points," a national architectural magazine.

Mr. Rose pointed out in his talk that a contemporary design need possess none of the "modernistic affectations" which are sometimes associated with it by the layman. "Contemporary design is merely a new approach," said Mr. Rose, "and has all the warmth, charm, intimacy, and other human qualities found in any other style." Dr. Bibby's garden will be the quintessence of simplicity done mainly in brick and stones to match the old house. The plant materials will be largely utilitarian with apple and cherry trees. Mr. Rose has provided for a simple combined summer house and grape arbor, special gardens, and climbing roses as well as green house and vegetable garden. The whole scheme is beautifully integrated in a design sense and completely dramatic in effect with a quality that does not in fact in any particular the quaint charm of the house.

Y.W. Plans Dessert Bridge

The members of the Y. W. C. A. Board of Directors will have a dessert bridge on Friday, July 8, at 6:30 p. m., at the Wiltywick Golf Club, the proceeds of which will go toward the relief program which the Y. W. C. A. of China is carrying on among the girls and women of that war-stricken country. Dessert will be served on the clubhouse porches immediately upon the arrival of the guests, and then bridge and other games will be enjoyed. The committee in charge includes Mrs. Frederic W. Holcomb, Mrs. John E. Staley and Miss Mary Staples, and they will be assisted in the details by other members of the association. Reservations may be made by communicating with the Y. W. C. A. or with any member of the committee, and it is hoped that members and friends of the association will cooperate generously in this worthwhile project.

Business Girls Have Meeting

The officers and committee chairmen of the Business and Professional Girls' Club of the Y. W. C. A. held a meeting at the home of the president, Miss Ruth Vandenberg of Downs street on Thursday evening. General plans for the program and activities of the coming season were discussed, following which a short social time was enjoyed. Young Socialites at Play at a Party

Freeman Photo

Mrs. Kenneth Davenport of High Falls entertained at a children's party Friday afternoon in honor of the second birthday of her son, Billy. The little host, on the extreme left, sits up proudly and gives the Freeman photographer his full attention while little Susan Herzog seems a little camera shy. Michael Rakov on the middle car, Nickie Shea on the horses, and Bobbie and Marcia Hancock in the big folding chair seem much more interested in something quite exciting on another part of the lawn. Seated on the grass in front are Beverly Davenport and Robert Wood who, like their host are all eyes for the "birds." Other children at the party but not in the picture were Mary Frances Hoorbeck, Martha Davenport, Judie Strong, Burton Davis, Jr., Peter Rakov and Tony Knauth.

Entertaining at Tea

Alexis Sanderson will entertain at tea this afternoon at his summer studio in Woodstock. Among the guests will be several Kingstonsians, Mrs. Henry Milling, Jr., Mrs. William Macgregor Mills, Mrs. Warren Ingalsbe, Mrs. Mortimer Downer, Mrs. Raymond Rignall, and the Misses Helen Turner, Helen Schoonmaker, Eva Clinton and Margaret Howe.

Last Home for Aged Meeting

The Board of Directors of the Home for the Aged will meet Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. This will be the last meeting of the season until September.

Wedding on Sunday

Miss Tessie Macchano of East Kingston and Henry Yonetti of Bloomington will be married at 2:30 Sunday in the Roman Catholic Church in East Kingston. Following a short wedding trip they will reside in Bloomington.

Roundout Social Mannerchor

The Roundout Social Mannerchor will hold a picnic Sunday afternoon at Herman's Grove, Maple Hill. Members and friends are invited to attend. Cars will leave the central post office at 2 o'clock.

Personal Notes

Mrs. George Carrier of Elmira will arrive Sunday to spend several days as the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mrs. Clarence L. Dumm, of Mountain View avenue. On Monday Mrs. Dumm will entertain at a dessert bridge in honor of her sister, Miss Alice Darrow and Miss Dorothy Battenfeld, students at the Vassar Hospital Training School, are in New York city taking three months training at the Presbyterian Medical Center.

Mrs. Arthur C. Connolly, of Albany avenue, entertained at bridge luncheon on Thursday at Maple Arch Homestead. Covers were laid for 12.

UNION CENTER

Union Center, June 24.—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Anderson of Ozone Park, L. I., are enjoying a week's stay at the home of Mrs. Anderson's mother.

The Rev. L. C. Richmond will be assisted at the Sunday evening services by the Rev. C. Carley of Brooklyn.

Mrs. Christine DuBois and Mrs. A. Mackey and daughter, Vera, of Kingston, and Mrs. E. Anderson of Ozone Park called on Mrs. Ellen DuBois Tuesday evening.

The school pupils with their teacher, Miss Kathleen Slight, of Port Ewen, enjoyed a picnic at Forsyth Park Thursday. They were taken in Spinnewebber's bus.

Mrs. Lester Douglas is spending several days visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Newton, of Millerton.

Grows One Big Lemon.
 Colorado Springs (AP)—The lemon is hardly native to the Pikes Peak country but Mrs. R. S. Niswanger has just completed her usual "lemon harvest." She plucked a lemon 18 inches in circumference, enough for three pies, from the lemon tree that grows in winter within her house and in the summer outside in her garden. The tree is potted and bears only one gigantic lemon at a time.

Clerk—I'm to be initiated into the local lodge tonight and I'm scared stiff.

Foreman—Why?

Clerk—About a month ago I sold the president my second-hand car.

Mrs. Newrich—My husband cabled me from Paris on my birthday asking whether he should buy me a Rembrandt or a Titian. Now, which would you have?

Mrs. Poorhouse—Well, so far as that goes, most of those French cars are good.

The country minister was giving the plump country girl a ride home in his car, and when he came to her house, he let her out. The girl proceeded to thank him. Minister—Oh, don't mention it! Girl (blushing)—All right, mum's the word.

Gene—Has the depression hit you yet?

Bill—I'll say it has! First I lost my job and went back to the old man to live; sent my children to the orphan's home; my wife went back to her mother; and I shot my dog.

Gene—That's bad.

Bill—Yes, sir. If times get any worse, I'm afraid I'll have to give up my car.

Local Far-Sighted Optimist—That farm of mine ought to be going up in value.

Friend—What makes you think that?

Local Far-Sighted Optimist—It's now on a main detour to town.

Read It or Not.
 Climate is no longer the first essential in curing tuberculosis. It can be cured in almost any climate.

The fashionably dressed woman approached the flower seller and asked for a dollar's worth of her daintiest flowers. After the purchase she inquired:

Fashionably Dressed Woman—Will you be here next Wednesday, as I shall want some flowers for my daughter? She's coming out that day.

Flower Seller—She shall have the best on the market, ma'am. What's she in for?

Evolution!
 Big business.
 Little business.
 No business.

Jerry—Did you know that fellow running for office has a glass eye?

Perry—No; can you tell which one it is?

Jerry—Yes. You look at both eyes pretty hard, and the one that has a gleam of human kindness in it is the glass one.

To Count Car Traffic

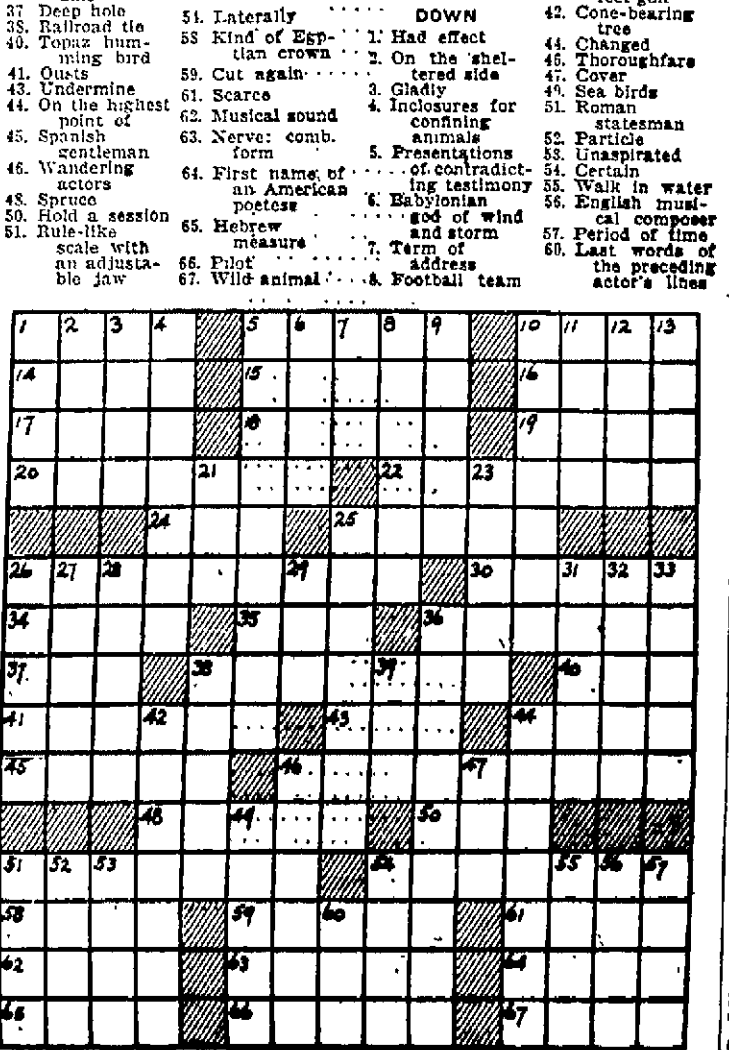

To expedite the taking of an accurate traffic count, on traffic flowing between Poughkeepsie and the Taconic parkway via Manchester Bridge, the Division of Highways, State Department of Public Works has installed a photo-electric beam designed to act as an automatic census taker. The new gadget, which will register the count of a passing vehicle on a tape when the beam is actuated, is located about 100 feet east of the Manchester Bridge underpass on the Poughkeepsie-Manchester Bridge-Billings highway.

ELLENVILLE

Adler-Katz.

Ellenville, June 24.—Miss Laura Katz, daughter of Mrs. Beasie Katz, of Brooklyn, and Philip Adler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Adler of Brooklyn, were married at New York City on June 19. Mrs. B. Aronowitz and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Aronowitz, of this village were among those who attended the ceremony. Mrs. Adler is a former local resident, having graduated from the Ellenville High School.

Bloom-Selken.

Ellenville, June 24.—A pretty wedding was held in the Capital Club in Brooklyn on June 16, when Miss Dorothy Selken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Selken, of Ellenville, became the bride of Harold Bloom, son of Mrs. Leo Bloom, of Brooklyn. Jack Selken gave his daughter in marriage. The bride was dressed in a gown of white tulle, with a veil of white tulle. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and gardenias. Mrs. Archie Kadish, the matron of honor, wore a black tulle dress and roses in her hair, and carried a bouquet of roses. Miss Blanche Bloom, cousin of the bride, who was maid of honor, wore pink tulle and carried roses. There were ten bridesmaids, three of whom were local girls, the Misses Bertha Setz, Eleanor Rosenthal and Regina Rappaport, wore period gowns and carried spring flowers. Samuel Fleischer acted as best man. After the ceremony 200 guests enjoyed a wedding dinner at the Capital Club. The couple will make their home in Brooklyn.

Hamilton-Briggs.

Ellenville, June 24.—Mrs. Myrtle Briggs and Martin Hamilton were married at the Lows Corner Church on Friday evening, June 17, by the Rev. J. M. Harris. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. William E. The wedding march was played by Miss Ann Urbell and vocal selections were rendered by Miss Ethel Low. An informal reception was held after the ceremony for a great many friends of the couple.

Bell-St. John.

Ellenville, June 24.—Miss Nell St. John and Roscoe Bell, both of Summitville, were married Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, at the Phillipsport parsonage by the Rev. Shoemaker. They were attended by Miss Madelyn Bell, of Summitville, and Duane Dolan, of Philadelphia, Pa. A reception was held at Flo Jean's in Port Jervis after which the couple left on an extended trip through Canada. They will make their home in Summitville.

Padgug-Overman.

Ellenville, June 24.—Miss Mary Silverman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Silverman of Canal street, and Samuel Padgug, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Padgug of Sunnyside, L. I., were married at Sunnyside on Thursday, June 16. The bride wore a white silk gown and veil and carried yellow roses.

Miss Marian Padgug, sister of the groom was maid of honor, and Charles Silverman, brother of the bride, was best man. A dinner party was enjoyed by the guests, after the ceremony, after which the couple left on a trip through Canada. They will make their home on Long Island. Mrs. Padgug is a graduate of Ellenville High School and City College, New York. Mr. Padgug is a public accountant. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Silverman, and daughter, Miss Estelle Silverman, and son, Charles Silverman, all of this village, attended the wedding and reception.

Laundrymen Face Publicity

As Alleged Wage Violators

Six proprietors of laundries in the Hudson river area were before Mrs. Elizabeth B. Coleman, chief of the enforcement bureau, minimum wage division of the state labor department, in Newburgh on Wednesday on an order directing them to show cause why their names should not be made public as violators of the new minimum wage law. Two were from Middletown, one from Newburgh, one from Poughkeepsie, one from Beacon and one from Port Jervis. They were given one week to show that they had complied with the provisions requiring a minimum of $12.80 a week for a 40-hour week for women and minors.

Author Of The Week

By John Kirby

KENNETH ROBERTS has produced (with the collaboration of N. C. Wyeth, the painter) just about the handsomest book of the spring. It's strangely charming, too—Roberts has dug out a huge amount of side matter while preparing his Maine novels, and he loves the state with almost frightening persistence. He and Wyeth are frankly proselytizing in "Treading Into Maine," and for once it's fun to be converted. (Little, Brown; $4.)

ARDONIA

Ardonia, June 25.—Mrs. Michael Mulvihill and children were visitors at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hyatt during the week.

Raymond Ambrosino has a force of men employed picking cherries.

Ulster Park Supper

The Ulster Park Ladies' Aid will hold their annual catereria supper and community sing on the lawn of L. Herring on Thursday evening. The catereria will open at 5:30 o'clock. If stormy it will be held the following evening at the same hour.

Roosevelt Plans Part in Primaries

"world," he commented, government can not "take a holiday of a year, or a month or even a day,"
from its efforts "to meet continuing problems."

Turning to a discussion of politics near the conclusion of his thirty-minute talk, Mr. Roosevelt drew a line between liberalism and conservatism.

He said the former recognizes that "the new conditions throughout the world call for new remedies."

"Those of us in America who hold to this school of thought insist that these new remedies cannot be adopted and successfully maintained in this country under our present form of government if we use government as an instrument to provide these remedies," he continued.

"The opposing or conservative school of thought, as a general proposition, does not recognize the need for government itself to step in and take action to meet these new problems."

Although making it emphatically clear that he felt free to make known his feelings in any contest between representatives of these schools of thought, Mr.
Roosevelt said he would not "indicate a preference in a state primary merely because a candidate otherwise liberal in outlook, had conscientiously differed with me
on any single issue."

Concerned About Candidates
Then, in a statement which made some listeners think of charges which have been brought against Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, N. J., the President said he was concerned about the attitude of candidates and their sponsors "with respect to the rights of American citizens to assemble peaceably and to express publicly their views and opinions on important social and economic issues."

"There can be no constitutional democracy in any community which denies to the individual his freedom to speak and worship as he wishes," he said. "The American people will not be deceived
by anyone who attempts to suppress individual liberty under the pretense of patriotism."

Mr. Roosevelt mentioned no names in that connection, but many listeners recalled that Rep.
O'Connell (D-Mont.), Norman
Thomas and others have denounced Hague in language very similar for denying them permits
to speak in Jersey City.

The President turned over to the justice department charges from several organizations and individuals that Hague had violated civil liberties guaranteed
by the constitution.

When the President turned to discussion of the activities of the 75th Congress, he said that although it "left many things undone," it had "achieved more for the future good of the country than any Congress did between the end of the World War and the spring of 1933."

High on his list of the legislators' "more important" achievements, the President mentioned the farm and wage-hour bills and the resolution creating a committee to study monopoly.

Conway Speaks At Graduation

Plattsburgh, June 25.—Assemblyman J. Edward Conway addressed the class of graduates at the Emma Wynant School, South
Plattsburgh, Thursday evening.

Mr. Conway reminded the young people that they had their individual place to fill in life and that they will succeed best if they do well whatever they try and go forth unafraid.

The school auditorium, which was beautifully decorated with summer flowers, was filled with relatives and friends of the graduates.

First prize went to Robert Watkins, who had the highest regents' average. Carmella Muccio won second prize. Awards were also given Frances Mutter, Mary Tiano, Joseph Kish and Harry Durling, who had the next four highest averages.

The class, represented by Victor
Nerone, presented Mrs. John Metzger, principal of the school,
with a volume of modern poetry,

Schmid Explains Education Budget

mitted to carry over from one year to another an unexpended
balance but must close its books and balance them on July 1. At that time any unexpended moneys raised the previous year must be carried forward as surplus in the next year's budget, which acts to decrease the tax levy by the amount in the surplus account.

"Last year the board included
in its budget the sum of $100,000
for new construction and during the year there was also authorized the borrowing of $270,000 for the construction of the new Myron J.
Michael School and the vocational school. Of the amount raised for 1938, $45,000 was 'ear-marked'
for construction of the Vocational School. Because of certain deficits this work has not been yet started and the $45,000 raised in the 1938 budget remains intact.
Money raised in last year's budget
for the construction of the Myron J. Michael school has not all been expended, payments being made
as work progresses on the job.

The unexpended balances remaining in the building fund are now transferred to surplus, which totals $116,845.91. This surplus is made up of appropriation balances, excess revenues and current unaid school taxes.

On July 1 these balances must be carried forward as surplus and in making up the 1939 budget
the amount still to be paid for the new construction, although included in last year's budget, must be again re-appropriated.

"Appearing in the budget first as a balance and then later as an appropriation it would give the casual observer an idea that the building program of the school system is costing far more than anticipated. Generally speaking, however, this is not true. In the 1938 budget there was raised by taxation a sum which was considered sufficient to carry on the building program for the year.
Because of the fact that all of this money was not expended during July 1, 1937 and July 1, 1938, the school fiscal year, the balance in the school budget is a very handsome surplus which is now held as a balance and will be re-appropriated for use in 1938-1939.

"At the present time the Board of Education fund has a balance of approximately $130,000 from which the June bills will be paid
and the balance then will be carried forward into the new budget
as a surplus to be re-appropriated.
The law does not permit the board
to build up a surplus from year to year but provides that any surplus at the end of the fiscal year shall be carried as a balance and re-appropriated for the following year."

Plan Return Visit
Washington, June 25 (AP)—
President Roosevelt has arranged to make the return visit he promised Eugene du Pont, father of his son's bride, a year ago at the wedding reception for Mr.
and Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt, Jr.
He said he would spend Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. du Pont
at their estate near Wilmington,
Del., before taking part Monday
in a 20th anniversary celebration of the landing of Swedish and Finnish colonies.

CABINET NEWLYWEDS, Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes and his bride, the former Jane Dahlman of Milwaukee, pose in garden of their 250-acre "Headwater Farm" near Olney.
Mrs. Ickes is going to be a farmer's wife, said the secretary.
After a surprise wedding in Dublin, the couple honeymooned in England and on the continent. Mr. Ickes is 64; his red-haired wife is 25.

Ruzzo, Nine Others Pay Fines Friday

raigned under indictment No.
2526, possession of policy slips,
and on their changing their former not guilty plea to guilty as indicted, Judge Traver imposed a $50 fine and 2 months suspended jail sentence. In sentencing the defendants he said that they were charged with a lesser crime than some of the others and he would consequently impose lighter sentences.

Judge's Warning
In sentencing the men Judge
Traver told them that he was going to suspend execution of the jail portion of their sentences during good behavior, "and that means no violation of the gambling law or any other law." He told them that they must keep away from gambling in all forms
and must not again sell policy
slips or engage in any other device
for gambling.

"On the first complaint against any one of you that you are engaged in any sort of gambling or law violation you will be brought back and the jail sentence imposed will be put in effect," said
Judge Traver and he warned them
that the suspension was in effect
not only on condition that they keep away from gambling but all other law violations. Joseph Forman appeared for all defendants,
except Duncan who was represented by William H. Grogan.

Plead to Section 986
William J. Macarelli of Smith avenue; Dennis Costello of 85
Hoffman street and Gene Harris of Clinton avenue changed their former not guilty pleas to guilty.
Their plea was guilty to violation of Section 986, "pool selling and book-making." Joseph Forman also represented these defendants.

Judge Traver imposed a $100 fine
in each case and a 6 months jail sentence which was suspended during good behavior. These defendants too were warned that any infringement of the law would bring them back in court for execution of the jail sentence.

Louis J. Scandiff of North Front street, represented by Herman Katz, also pleaded guilty to possession of policy slips and was given a $50 fine and a suspended 3 months jail sentence.

Court then recessed until Tuesday at 10 o'clock.

At The Theatres

Today
Kingston: "You and Me," starring Sylvia Sydney and George Raft, supported by Barton Mac-
Lane, Harry Carey and Roscoe
Karns. Also "It Happened One Night," starring Clark Gable, as the return cinema by request.
Broadway: "Vivacious Lady"
with Ginger Rogers and James Stewart in a story about a vivacious night club singer and a serious young college professor in love. "March of Time" featuring racketeers against housewives.

"King of Newboys" and "Stage Coach Days." Low Ayers and Helen Mack are the stars of the first picture, and Jack Ludin, the second.

Shy of Garden

Washington, June 25 (AP)—
Secretary Ickes said the other day that his 25-year-old bride,
the former Jane Dahlman of Milwaukee, was going to be "a farmer's wife." But today Mrs.
Ickes said with a smile that she would have nothing to do with a garden because pollen made her sneeze. Furthermore, she said, she didn't know she was
"marrying a farmer."

WPA Asks Bids

Washington, June 25 (AP)—The Works Progress Administration
asked bids today on an estimated $12,000,000 worth of cement, asphalt, sand, gravel and crushed
stone. Administrator Harry L.
Hopkins said it would be one of the largest material and equipment purchases ever made by
WPA. Bids will be opened June 29. Delivery will be required during the next six months.

Austin Has Daughter

Wimbledon, Eng., June 25 (AP)—
Henry Wilfred (Bunny) Austin
meets Gene Mako on Wimbledon's center court today in the throes of that strange mixture of joys and jitters that comes with fatherhood. A daughter was born early today to Mrs. Austin, the former actress, Phyllis Konstam.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

—By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—It has been months since Garbo coughed in "Camille" and now here we are at the threshold of a new "cough cycle" in pictures. Margaret Sullivan in "Three Comrades," Luise Rainer in "The Toy Wife" are our latest victims of acute bronchial trouble.

In the old silent pictures only one shot of the young wife knitting tiny garments was needed to convey the idea that a little bundle of joy was in the offing. The cinema cough is becoming just as effective
a symbol foreshadowing the future.
The only danger is that in the
"cough cycle" if a heroine bud
clears her throat in all innocence,
the audiences will cry "Ah, hal
and reach for their handkerchiefs...."

That reminds us, of course, of the revival of "A Farewell to Arms," still after six years one of the better "good cries" of the screen. It comes opportunely, now that Gary Cooper has reached stellar eminence at the box-office,
while Helen Hayes, disdaining pictures, has proved that even out of them one can build and keep one's fame.

Cooper Coming Up

"A Farewell to Arms," only slightly censored from its pre-Breen warmth and frankness, is still a moving and powerful picture. Frank Borzage, who directed, has yet to top the horrifying pic-tury of the Italian retreat, and his skill in tenderly romantic interludes was as notable then as now.

Miss Hayes, even then, could show most of Hollywood's beauties
how to act without seeming to,
and Cooper in 1932, with this performance, was working up to the interesting ingenious style which now characterizes his every film.
Adolphe Menjou's work is still a gem of acting, and the whole thing is singularly undated.

Wagner Tops With Director
Having seen Borzage's "Three Comrades"—his latest work—but a few days before, we were impressed with the director's fondness for Wagnerian music in his scoring. The ending, in the new picture and the old, is virtually the same, with similar settings—and
both Miss Hayes and Miss Sullivan are given fearful farewell to the rising strains of Isolde's Love Death music. But Borzage probably realized that if better music
for a "love death" could have been written, Wagner would have written it—and in "Three Comrades," at least, the director omitted the sunburst of pigeons in the fade-out.

Heat Continues in Area For First Summer Days

Summer was officially ushered in Tuesday with a heat wave that still grips the city. The hottest day, to date, was yesterday at 2:30 o'clock when the official city thermometer recorded 95
degrees in the shade. A threat of rain on Friday failed and today the city was again sweltering
under the warm rays of the sun.

Strike Ends

Pittsburgh, June 25 (AP)—The steel town's two afternoon newspaper plants hummed with activity
today as everyone from publishers
to office boys turned to the task of getting papers on the streets
again after a nine-day strike suspension. An agreement was reached last night with representatives of ten newspaper craft unions by publishers of the Press (Scriffe-Howard) and Sun-Telegraph (Hearst).

Picard Leads

Cincinnati, June 25 (AP)—There are four rounds left to the $5,000
Goodall Invitational Golf Tourney
on the Kenwood course, but 14
pros will have to go like a poor man's dollar to catch Henry Picard. Henry has a plus 15 rating in the complicated plus-minus scoring of the round robin. He's kicking par all around the lot and,
with 54 of the 135 holes played,
he looks like the goods.

Of the nearly 1,000 cities in the country with a population of 10, 000 or more, 494 depend entirely on motor buses for local transit service. In 1920 there were only 13 "all-bus" cities.

Playgrounds of City Will Be Opened Officially Monday

Freeman Photos
"Congratulations Tom upon completing one of the finest jobs I've ever seen," said Mayor C. J. Heiselman to foreman Thomas Curtin as His Honor visited Lawton Park to inspect the new picnic and play area located on the Boulevard. In less than one year's time this large section of swamp and underbrush has been transformed into a spacious park where families may have picnics on several tables mounted on island stone platforms. Two double fireplaces and four drinking fountains of brick also may be found on the grounds. Tom Curtin is an old stone cutter and mason, accounting for a cobbler rock pulpit which was erected for use at sunrise services or to address gatherings. All paths are bordered with cemented rocks and a comfort station is now being constructed on the premises. Early this year trees, shrubs and mountain laurel were transplanted in the park to aid with the landscaping.

Resting in the garden of Mrs. George Washburn on West Chestnut street after the guests had left are Mrs. Gerard Betz, Mrs. C. Victor Livingston and Mrs. Washburn. Other gardens that were visited were those of Mrs. George Hutton on West Chestnut street, Mrs. Hermon A. Kelley, St. Remy, and Mrs. William A. Van Benschoten, West Park.

With school nearly over and an entire summer's vacation at hand, these "kiddies" have decided to spend all of it in the Academy Green pool if the present warm weather continues. All of the municipal playground pools have been filled to capacity with frolicking youngsters trying to keep cool.

Men are shown grading a section of land set aside in Hutton Park for tennis courts. Hutton Park which is one of the new playground areas now under construction in the city, is located on Lincoln street. A softball diamond has just been completed and is ready for use when the City Softball League starts the second half of the season. Separating the softball diamond from the playground is a hill still where constant watch may be kept on all activity. In addition to ball fields and tennis courts the park will be fully equipped with swings, see-saws, merry-go-round and jungle-gym. This park will be under the supervision of two directors, Jack McManus and Jeanne Ward, beginning Monday, June 27.

Meetings to give final instruction to the playground directors were held in the Municipal Auditorium this week. In the above picture taken after one of these meetings are (seated left to right) Edward Safford, Hasbrouck Park; Cecile Thompson, nature study; Adrian Cumberly, Longbrun; Florence Kaetsch, Loughran; Anne Knecht, dancing; Roger Salsman, Forsyth; Evelyn Winsfield, Cornell; and Bert Van Dusen, Hasbrouck Park. Standing in the same order are Sidney Lutzin, superintendent of the department of recreation; Jack McManus, Hutton; Helen Ross, Forsyth; Jeanne Ward, Hutton; David Kline, special activities director; Kathleen Cullen, Block; George Geisler, Barnham; and three assistant directors, Walter Lardner, John Laaninen and Ray Adams. Standing on the extreme right of the photo is Harry Edson, chairman of the recreation committee.

Wilbur residents should not feel slighted for a new picnic park, to be named Clearwater Park, and predicted to be one of the most picturesque in this vicinity, is now being developed on Chapel street. It has a beautiful natural stream running through the wooded section which will be dammed to form a wading pool. Several rustic bridges will arch the brook which will lead to picnic tables. Paths are being made through these small woods. Portions of land on each end of the park are being cleared and graded so that standard playground equipment may be installed. Although work is progressing slowly it is expected to be utilized before the end of summer.

Ten City Parks Now Ready To Serve Youth of This City

The growth of Kingston's park and playground acreage within the past few years has given new significance locally to the slogan, "Youth Must Be Served."

Young people in the city are indeed served adequately and this year facilities of 10 parks and playgrounds will be used for the recreation and amusement so essential to growing boys and girls and the leisure of adults.

Few cities have a better equipped park system than Kingston and most of them are a tribute to the thoughtfulness of civic-minded citizens who gave the land on which they were developed.

The land in this age of speed and traffic congestion on most every thoroughfare is one of the greatest assets serving the health and welfare of the young and plays a part prominently in making better citizens of the future.

All of the parks and playgrounds in Kingston are conveniently located in the various sections of the city and it is no longer necessary for children of any neighborhood to risk life and limb with their games and fun in the midst of traffic congestion.

Outstanding improvements have been made in the parks which have been open to the public for many years and within the past three years several new tracts of land have been developed.

New equipment has been added each year until today all of the separate areas are more attractive to both children and adults.

Hasbrouck and Forsyth parks were the two major playgrounds in the city for many years. Then came Block and Cornell parks, and the Academy Green development. Later such tracts of land as that donated by James F. Loughran, county road superintendent, the Lawton and the Clearwater land at Wilbur, were added to the system and available sites as the Barnham lot and Hutton Park were developed.

More important, however, than the development of the parks themselves is the more advanced system of supervision recently instituted by the local recreational department. Playground directors are in charge throughout the summer months and local parents are thereby assured of safe and supervised play for their children.

All of the parks open officially Monday and then will begin the various programs which will be carried out according to schedule throughout the summer.

The element of contest is strongly stressed by the directors and inter-park sports events bring special honors to the winners at the end of the season and at intervals during the summer.

Fun and exercise are, of course, the key words of the day for the youngsters, but it must be safe and healthful, and not the harmful and dangerous kind so often indulged in by reckless young people when they get away by themselves in the city streets or on some dangerous adventure unknown to their parents.

Parks and playgrounds in any community truly represent an investment that pays dividends, and on this score, Kingston certainly has no second place.

WITTENBERG

Wittenberg, June 25—Mrs. Fred Young and Thomas Black of Brooklyn have returned home after spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Shults and Miss Carol Melster. While here they enjoyed a trip to Lake Minnewaska one day last week.

The W. W. Society will hold their annual church fair Friday afternoon and evening July 29. Supper will be served from 6 o'clock on. Many fancy articles and refreshments will be on sale.

Richard Shults, of Bearville, spent a few days with his aunt, Mrs. Gus Shults.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart of Tuckahoe have purchased a bungalow from Gus Shults at Yonkers town pond.

E. Hoover made a trip to New York Monday.

Mrs. Louis J. Vleghman has rented her house to a group of girls from Hunter College, New York, for a few weeks.

Mrs. A. Regnier, of Ridgeland Park, N. Y., is at her home in this place.

There will be a display of fireworks July 7 at the Wittenberg Sportsman's club house grounds. Everyone is welcome.

The W. W. Society will meet at the church hall July 7, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mario Vlejetta will again be one of the violinists in the orchestra at Jones Beach, L. I., this summer.

STONE RIDGE

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson have as their house guests this week—Mr. Anderson's mother and sister, Mrs. Frank Anderson, Sr., and Miss Edith Anderson, of Brooklyn.

The Ladies Aid of the M. E. Church will be entertained Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. George Weeks.

Mrs. Emma Carroll of Salisbury, Conn., is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ross K. Osterhout.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Christensen, Mr. and Mrs. Myron DeFay and daughter, Edith, of Kingston and Mr. and Mrs. Alva Meyers of Marbletown were callers at the home of Mrs. Nettie Lockwood and family Sunday.

Australian Cowboys Are "Drovers" or "Jackeroos"

Australia has its cowboys, too, although "down under" they call them "drovers," "boundary riders," and "jackeroos." And instead of ranches they have "stations," often thousands of acres. There are stations covering 10,000 square miles, according to a writer in the Detroit News.

The cattlemen of Australia are tall, bronzed, sinewy and hard-bitten. They do not wear the chaps of the Texas cow-puncher but in recent years some have taken to the "tan-gallon" hat which is useful in the burning sunlight of the cattle lands.

But if not as picturesque as the American cowboys, they are fearless riders and skilled cattle drivers. They know the lore of the bush and their way by instinct through the uncharted areas that go to the making of a big station, and on occasion travel great distances with only the sun and the stars to guide them.

The "drover" is a driver of cattle, and sometimes he is on the roads for months at a time taking a "mob" of "stores" or partially tamed animals from the "back of beyond"—the "Never-Never Land" of Australia—to fattening paddocks near the big city markets. The boundary rider's job is to ride the boundary fences and keep them in repair. The "jackaroo" usually is a young man from the city, a "dude," seeking experience and knowledge of cattle-raising so that in later years he may become a land owner.

Australia has thousands of cattle and exports some 200,000,000 pounds of beef yearly.

MAKE YOURSELF DOUBLY ALLURING BY TELLING EXCITING FORTUNES

Clues in Cards, Tea Leaves, Campfires

"What'll we do?" asks your crowd on a gayly bent. "Let's tell fortunes," says you—and presto! you're the center of the stage. Dora's all smiles when you see "good luck" for her in the campfire. That flower-shaped spark leading near her is the good-luck symbol.

Jim you reduce to blushes—for a boyknot spark shooting his way says he'll be a bridegroom soon. "More friends" is the welcome message of a key-shaped spark for Tom.

On long summer afternoons, read the cards to keep up your reputation as a seer. Easy to remember their meanings by the fascinating Seraphim method.

Most hearts tell of romance; diamonds, money and gifts; clubs, real life. Spades? They are the cloud in front of the silver lining.

"Tut, tut," you say to Polly as you lay out her fortune. "This Jack of Hearts foretells a blond admirer who will rush you. You may meet him at the house party the 8 of Clubs says you'll go to."

...and what will faithful Dick say? Maybe the unhappy letter hinted by the 5 of Spades is a scolding from him.

Tea-leaves you can read as easily as you can see the Man in the Moon. Easy to detect the snake-like cluster in Ted's cup. An enemy for him, it warns. A fan formed in Fran's cup says another flirtation for her, the heart-breaker!

On and on you go—making a hit in your fortune-telling role with tips from our 40-page booklet, LET ME TELL YOUR FORTUNE. How to read cards, tea leaves, handwriting, numbers, dreams, entertain at parties, dates.

Send 15c for our booklet, LET ME TELL YOUR FORTUNE, to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Institute, 109 West 19th Street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

PATTERN 6164

These stars of the dolly world are ready to shine together—on your luncheon table or separately on smaller tables! Crochet them in king or finer cotton. Fascinating pick-up work that's so useful, too. Pattern 6164 contains instructions for making the dollies, an illustration of them and of stitches; a photograph of dolly; materials required.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coins (coins preferred) to the Kingston Daily Freeman, Household Arts Dept., 253 W. 14th Street, New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

Result of Improper Framing: Plaster cracks, sticking doors and windows, and openings of woodwork joints may occur in houses that are honestly built of low-grade materials. When such misfortunes occur they are generally due to improper framing. By improper framing is meant inadequate or faulty bracing or a type of construction which will cause unequal settlement or shrinkage in the horizontal members, resulting in plaster cracking and in doors that bind.

Spectator Frocks Make Fashion Presses Hum

Colored Backgrounds Silhouette White Print Patterns

By ADELAIDE KERR
City Fashion Editor

Many of the summer's spectator sports frocks tell their fashion news in print.

Where women gather out of doors you'll see them—simple, smooth little frocks whose surfaces are broken by a rhythmic printed pattern, generally in white silhouetted against color.

Some are made of smooth crepes or non-crushable voiles. Others step out in crisp, a rayon of rustic weave mixed with a little silk, and printed with white patterns inspired by wedge-wood china, on grounds of light blue, rose, periwinkle blue or a cool blue-green named spruce.

There are some flower prints, too, mingling the blues and lavenders or the rusts and yellows of an old-fashioned garden, in thick floral patterns on a white voile ground. Some of these flower prints are colored with the luscious pastel hues of powder puffs.

All the frocks are simply cut, and skirts are pleated or gored. Side fastenings, bullet buttons and narrow patent leather belts—all white—give them a frosty cooling finish.

White frocks are much in evidence, too. Sleek sharkskin, now a summer standby, makes smooth little dresses with collared, square or V-necklines; short sleeves and gored skirts. These are often accented with blue and white polka dot crepe pipings and sash girdles or narrow belts of multi-colored cords. A crisp white bolero is worn over a number of them.

Other white frocks are made of raw silk or cotton mesh. Colored spectator sports dresses are seen in three outstanding colors—pastel blue, a soft ice cream beige dubbed "candlelight," and blue with a turquoise tinge which the fashion world calls "aqua."

COPPER COLOR

Here is one of the 1938 spectator sports frocks designed of copper tan rayon crepe covered with a white printed pattern. Notice the cardigan neckline and the belt with the leather fastening.

DOLLAR BUTTONS

White rayon crepe makes this summer frock topped by a short-sleeved bolero. Dark blue crepe and dollar-sized buttons trim it. The big straw hat is dark blue too.

Parisian Visit Of George VI Boon to Stylists

By ALICE MAXWELL
City Fashion Writer

Paris—French couturiers are thanking their stars that England's King and Queen are coming on June 23 to Paris. Clothes ravishing, rich and rare, are being ordered for the royal visit.

Gold and silver embroideries are spreading over crepes and tulle. Paillettes are piling up on sundry stuffs, in star and flower motifs, and in arabesques. Laces are cascading to trains' ends, and flowers flourishing in gorgeous colors in profusion.

Paillettes the color of star sapphires, cover entirely an evening dress and three-quarter coat, selected by the Princess de Faucigny-Lucinge. The coat has short puffed sleeves, and the slim dress a narrow girdle of blue velvet.

Large stars in silver paillettes brighten a black crepe ensemble, which has been ordered by Princess Sixte de Bourbon de Parme, Princess Nicholas of Roumania, and Baroness Eugene de Rothschild.

Princess George of Greece has selected a dove grey marocain dress, whose skirt is scattered over with chrysanthemum motifs embroidered in silver paillettes and rhinestones.

Flowers take a bow in a black velvet cutaway jacket chosen by Countess R. de Montessquiou-Penzance to wear with a black chiffon evening frock. The jacket has short puffed sleeves and a tulip on each side of the front, embroidered in cyclamen pink thread, tinsel and paillettes. The same chiffon frock, with a "necklace" of pink carnations substituted for the jacket, is selected by the American Duchess de Chaulnes. These flowered styles are designed by Molyneux.

Dresses for the royal visit ordered by wives of French Ministers include a Chanel model selected by Madame Georges Bonnet, wife of the Foreign Minister. This is in white lace and tulle. Madame Raymond Patenotre, wife of the Minister of National Economy and Production, has also selected a white dress, made with a satin bodice and a full tulle skirt trimmed with narrow satin bands. Ostrich plumes as brave as any an English peeress ever flaunted in historic headdress will grace new Paris hats.

The proverbial triple plumes will be outdone by small hats with half a dozen ostrich tips to their credit, or larger ones with four nodding plumes in as many colors.

Small House Values Steady.

A survey recently made by the Society of Residential Appraisers indicated that one-family homes of from $3,000 to $5,000 showed the most stability in values throughout most sections of the country.

Mineral Wool for Home Of "Little Women"

One of the most famous homes in America has just been modernized. The Concord, Massachusetts, house of Louisa M. Alcott, author of the famed "Little Women," is now insulated against summer heat and winter cold with mineral wool.

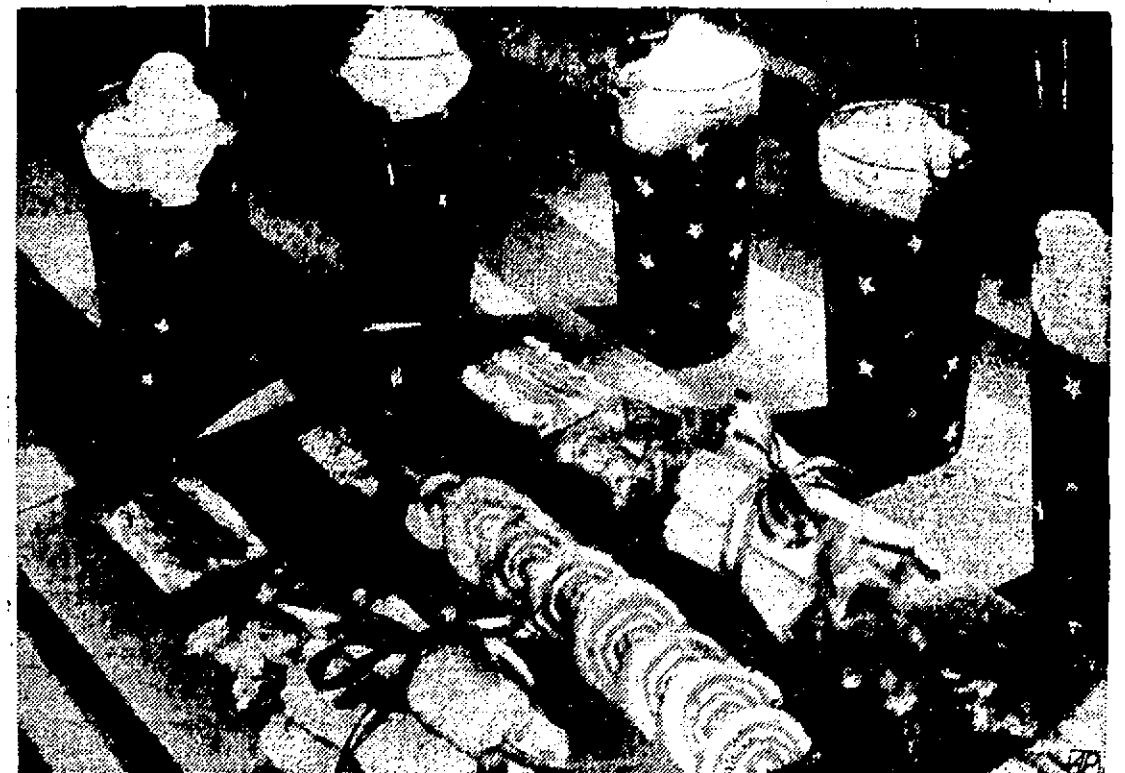

In this unassuming residence where the celebrated novel was written and its four still living characters—Jo, Meg, Beth and Amy—were created, the author died two years later. Since then the book has become one of the classics and each year thousands of visitors flock to see the modest home.

This summer they will find new comfort, a comfort which Louisa May Alcott lacked, although mineral wool was known and used for home insulation in 1837—a year before the author died.

Wash "washable" wall papers carefully. Make a heavy suds, using warm water and a mild soap. Apply the suds to the paper with a soft cloth. Quickly remove with a soft, clean cloth. Do not let the suds remain on the paper too long—it may loosen it.

Give A Bang-Up Party On The 4th With Food Instead Of Fireworks

Iced Coffee Takes Its Place With Fireworks At The Fourth of July Party

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
City Feature Service Writer

Salute the Fourth this year with a tea or cocktail party. Trays of colorful canapés and baskets of intriguing sandwiches will give a sparkle to the serving table from which iced coffee, tea, punch, or cocktails are dispensed.

Decorations, of course, will go patriotic. Arrange a centerpiece of red, white, and blue flowers in a low basket or bowl, for instance. Or stick silk flags in a flower holder, set in a shallow dish. You might even borrow the children's toy cannons and soldiers to make up a fort.

Canapés, usually the "eat-in-one-bite" morsels, give your imagination a chance to run rampant in shapes and flavors. You should make dozens and dozens because guests will like these tid-bits.

If hot canapés are on the menu, it's advisable to bake them in foil stalls, so the supply will always be warm. For surprises, wrap one-inch pastry strips around small frankfurters, tiny hamburger balls, or squares of ham. Bake for seven minutes. They are appealing partners for hot or cold beverages.

Another suggestion—spread a half-inch sheet of biscuit dough

PINWHEELS

Take a slice of bread lengthwise of the loaf. Spread it with jelly or cream cheese. Roll lengthwise, wrap, chill, and then slice crosswise.

FIRECRACKERS

Use individual slices of bread. Fill with sandwich spread. Roll and insert pimiento for fuses.

STARS

Spread individual slices of bread with a mixture of cream cheese and nuts. Cut into star shapes and top with a slice of stuffed olive.

STUPES

Place strips of pimiento on bread spread with liverwurst paste.

With savory creamed crab, tuna, or ham mixture. Cover with another thin sheet of dough. Cut into one-inch squares and quickly press the edges together with a fork, giving several pricks to the top. Pop these into a moderate oven five minutes before they are to be served.

Biscuits an inch in diameter are excellent containers for caviar and anchovies. While the biscuits are piping hot, remove the centers and stuff them. Creamed mushrooms and ham may also be used.

For a Norwegian angle, spread toast bits with sardines mixed with mayonnaise, minced green peppers and parsley, and a dash of Worcestershire sauce. Garnish with chopped beets and cress. Or mix sardines with lemon juice, minced olives and parsley. Spread the combination over crackers and garnish with chopped olives and pimientos.

A pliant cheesy mixture combined with diced dill pickles and ripe olives makes an unusual filler. To lend a gay note to the table, cover a large platter with crisp cress and top it with chilled shrimps on wooden picks. At either end of the platter set a bright pottery bowl. Fill one with mayonnaise and the other with chili sauce and catsup, mixed. Outline with small cheese biscuits and toast points covered with Roquefort cheese.

A tray of icy-crisp vegetables, contrasting in colors and shapes, gives a cooling effect. Heap carrot strips, cauliflower flowerets, cucumber fingers, radish roses, and spring onions. Center the tray with a large eggplant or cabbage, hollowed out and filled with a small bowl of cocktail sauce. The guests may then dip their own.

Make "frosted" grapes for garnishing summer salads and desserts. Select firm grapes, dip them into slightly beaten egg whites, dust them with granulated sugar and then dry them on waxed paper. Use them, for example, as a filling for peach or cantaloupe halves.

If You Borrow, Be Prepared To Lend

By JOAN DURHAM
(AP Feature Service Writer)

There are two good rules to follow when you borrow:

Never borrow anything you can't replace if it should be lost or damaged; set a time when you will return the borrowed item—and return it then.

There are, of course, legitimate times to borrow.

Occasionally you will need an item you may never have to use again. If you have a friend from whom to borrow it and you are able to reciprocate, there probably will be no reason to hesitate.

Ticklish Business

Borrowing money, however, is a ticklish business.

If you need large sums, borrow from an organization that makes a business of lending.

There may be times—when you're seriously ill, changing jobs or far from home—when a small amount loan from a friend will tide you over. Be sure to set a date for repaying and note it down. Keep your credit clear by keeping that date.

Book borrowers are a special plague. Many persons object strenuously to lending books. If you know that's the case, don't, under any circumstances, ask to borrow one.

Watch Those Books

Few people, on the other hand, want or can afford to own everything they read. That's why public and lending libraries were formed. That's a reason, too, for the custom of exchanging books among friends. But don't abuse it.

Be meticulous about returning recently-published books. Don't keep one more than two weeks without permission. Probably several other people would like to read it while it's a topic for discussion.

Never put a borrowed book into your own bookcase. Someone in the family may think it belongs to you and lend it elsewhere.

Preparing For Company

(Dinner Serving Seven or Eight)
Chilled Fruit Salad
Fruit Dressing
Bread Sticks, Buttered
Veal Steak Creole
Baked New Potatoes
Baked Corn-on-the-Cob
Beef Relish
Rolls
Peach Butter
Strawberry Cream Pie
Coffee

Veal Steak Creole

3 pounds veal
1 cup flour
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup oil
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 cup tomato
1/2 cup onion
1/2 cup celery
1/2 cup green peppers
1/2 cup boiling water

Cut veal into serving pieces. Sprinkle with flour and seasonings. Fit into a shallow baking pan in which the fat has been melted. Bake the rest of the ingredients. Bake for 20 minutes, uncovered, in a hot oven. Cover. Lower heat and bake for one hour in a moderate oven. Turn veal to allow even cooking.

Beef Relish

2 cups chopped
cooked beef
1/2 cup grated
horseradish
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup vinegar

Mix ingredients. Cover and chill. Serve in a small bowl.

Strawberry Cream Pie

1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup vanilla
1/2 cup lemon extract
1/2 cup almond extract
2 egg whites, beaten
2 cups berries (washed and hulled)
1/2 cup confectioner's sugar
1 baked pie shell
1 cup whipped cream

Blend together the sugar, flour and salt. Add yolks and milk. Cook, until creamy and thick, in a double boiler, stirring frequently. Cool. Add extracts and fold in the berries and confectioner's sugar. Pour into a baked shell and bake for 15 minutes in a slow oven. Cool. Spread with cream. Serve.

Helps for Housewives

To keep sliced peaches from darkening after they are peeled, sprinkle a little lemon juice over them. Then cover and store them in the refrigerator until time for serving.

Keep your electric light bulbs and lamp shades clean if you want to get the most out of them. A film of dust on a bulb will reduce the intensity of light. Dust or dirt on a shade will dim it.

Spicy Ideas: Sprinkle a little cinnamon over the top of cooked fruit or berry sauce. Add a touch of nutmeg to sliced bananas, apple sauce or sliced peaches. Mix a dash of ginger with baked peaches, pears or cherries.

Make "frosted" grapes for garnishing summer salads and desserts. Select firm grapes, dip them into slightly beaten egg whites, dust them with granulated sugar and then dry them on waxed paper. Use them, for example, as a filling for peach or cantaloupe halves.

U. S. Steel Cuts Price of Finished Steel Products

Meeting competitive conditions and testing the effect lowered prices will have in stimulating demand, United States Steel yesterday announced drastic reductions in the prices of finished steel products. The cut brings prices down to a point at or below the 1937 levels. The price cut was not unexpected, but its extent was, Sheet and strip steel, important to the auto industry, was reduced $4.50 a ton at Pittsburgh, $6.40 in Chicago and $7.50 at Birmingham. Concrete reinforcing bars were cut as much as $8.40. Differences between Pittsburgh, Birmingham and Chicago were practically eliminated. Independent mills were taken by surprise by the move.

The fifth day of trading this week showed stocks still moving upward, but with irregularity toward the close as some profit taking developed. Trading continued to increase in volume, a total of 2,290,000 shares being traded in Friday. Industrials were up 1.66 points for the day, closing at 129.06 in the Dow-Jones averages, rails gained 0.46 to 15.06, utilities were down 0.38 point for the day, closing at 20.13. Corporate bonds were a bit higher, government securities were strong.

Cotton was firm and textile sales continued strong with prices up as much as 3/4 of a cent since Monday, possible upturn in the industry is indicated. There were heavy sales of spot hides on advancing prices. Lead made another advance, up 15 points, zinc was offered at 450 cents a pound, up ten points.

Barron's business index for last week showed a gain of 0.8 point, to 52.6 per cent of normal. Auto output for this week is estimated at 40,918 units, a less than seasonal decline from last week; compares with 121,032 in the same week year ago.

Department store sales, which in recent weeks have been running 13 to 19 per cent below a year ago, are showing some improvement. They were only ten per cent lower in the week ended June 18 than in the corresponding week a year ago. In the New York district the decline was 8.3 per cent.

With steadily declining demand for railroad equipment last year, American Can & Pouch reported net for 12 months ended April 30 of $753,407. Compared with $1,210,676 in previous year.

The 46th annual convention of the State Bankers' Association opened at Saratoga Inn, N. Y., this morning.

GRANGE NEWS

Rosendale, June 25—There will be a regular meeting of the Rosendale Grange Monday evening. All members are urged to attend.

The following program will be presented by the lecturer, Evelyn Kennedy: A mock wedding, with a bride and groom dressed in attendant. The bride will be given away by her father, while the choir sings the wedding music. Sister Kennedy urges everyone to bring their flower entries in containers for the flower contest which will be held that night.

After the meeting refreshments will be served by the following committee: Mrs. L. G. Rymph, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Terhune, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Hotelling, Ruth Hotelling, Joseph Zehntner, Mrs. Mae Krom, Donald Krom, Kenneth Randager, Miss Margaret Randager, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yunker.

Ten thousand miles of two-lane concrete roads, or enough to cross the country three times with plenty to spare, could have been built with the $410,000,000 contributed by motor truck owners in registration fees, gasoline taxes and other special highway user taxes during 1937.

Apparently it makes a difference whether one stands or sits. Customer—I've brought that last pair of trousers to be re-seated. You know I sit a lot. Tallor—Yes, and I hope you've brought the bill to be re-cepted. You know I've stood a lot.

By VICTOR EUBANK.

New York, June 25 (AP)—Stocks swung upward at high speed today, after a slow profit selling dip at the opening, and initial losses of fractions to a point were converted into first advances running to 3 or more.

The swift right-about, bringing the sixth consecutive rallying session, came after a statement of the U. S. Steel Corp. asserting that no official of the company had given assurances that wage cuts would not follow yesterday's drastic slash in prices posted by the principal subsidiaries of the corporation.

The buying wave that hit the hour around the start of the final hour vented on steels, motors and other pivotal issues, and the pace was so fast that, for a time, the ticker tape fell 3 minutes behind floor dealings. There was a subsequent quiet interval and top marks were lowered somewhat near the close.

Bonds and commodities, hesitant on the get-away, did better with stocks. Grains, however, failed to make much progress.

The belated broadening of volume put transfers for the two hours at around 1,000,000 shares.

Local Death Record

The funeral of Charles Schoonmaker of Ulster Park was held this afternoon from the Funeral Home of Ernest A. Kelly, 111 West Chester street. The Rev. Clarence E. Brown of the Wurts Street Baptist Church officiated and burial was in the Rosecliff Cemetery. Bearers were members of the family. The services were largely attended and there were many beautiful floral offerings.

New Paltz, June 25—William F. Richardson, 68, native of New Paltz, died Wednesday night, June 22, in St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie. He was the son of the late Louis and Lucretia Minar Richardson. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Josephine Kniffin Richardson, a son, Orville L. Richardson, of New York city, and a nephew, Grant Richardson, of Blauvelt. Funeral services were held Saturday at his home, with Dr. Howard E. Thompson, pastor of the Washington Street Methodist Church, officiating. Burial was in Lloyd Cemetery.

Mrs. Matilda Trowbridge, widow of John Trowbridge, died this morning at the home of her son, Emzie J. Trowbridge, 316 Lucas avenue. Last April Mrs. Trowbridge celebrated her 90th birthday. Two weeks ago she sustained a broken hip in a fall. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Morgan Stokes of New Paltz, and two sons, John D. Trowbridge of Rhinebeck, and Emzie J. Trowbridge, manager of the local Mohican store on John street. Funeral services will be held from the home of her son on Lucas avenue on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock with burial in the Wurttemberg cemetery.

Mrs. Viola Ver Nooy, wife of Silas Ver Nooy, died at her home in Hillsdale on Friday, aged 68 years. She is survived by her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Frank Atkins of Wawarsing, and Miss Addie Ver Nooy, at home, two sons, Ralph of Wawarsing, and Floyd at home, one brother, Frederick Burhaus of Wawarsing, and four grandchildren. Harold Schade-wald of Kerhonkson will officiate, and the bearers will be John Alliger, Dan Keogan, James McCombs and Roy Lowe, all of Wawarsing.

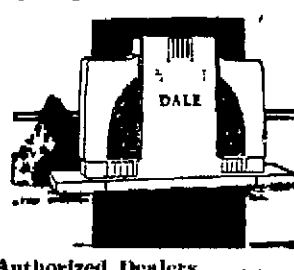

Australia's campaign to attract tourists is producing satisfactory results. The arrival of 5,638 tourists in January set a new monthly record. The number probably was inflated by the 150th anniversary celebrations, but the rise is indicative of a tendency which has been developing ever since the depression.
